

Upcoming Free Events

Check Out List of FREE Storytelling Events!

Want to be a storyteller?

Want to experience contemporary true stories of Black and Brown People?

Want to Uncover Your Purpose?

Opportunities for any and all of this FREE
All Free

June 14

International Festival of Arts & Ideas Presents:

Reconnect to Purpose

A Storytelling Development Workshop introduces storytelling and listening as pathways to reconnect to purpose; in community, mine your stories for the buried insights which strengthen and enlighten. Prompts for reflection in solitude by pair and/or small group sharing of our recalled stories.

June
27

WPAA TV: Studio W presents

Ubuntu Storytellers: IDEAL - live

Professional Black and Brown Story Artists share "stories of being and of being in the skin we're in"

Be a part of the Studio Audience

7:30 -9:00 PM Champagne Reception Follows

Reserve Your Free Seat

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/590065169807>

July 12

Waterford Public Library.
Presents Introduction to A.C.E.

Learn to tell your story with Authenticity, Clarity and Engagement - Do you have a story, one that is screaming to be told? Does fear stop you? In this workshop you will identify the core of your story, tell it with clarity and leave your audience wanting more

July 18

Brookfield Public Library Presents
"Oops Did I Say That?"

Learn to authentically tell your story and avoid the pitfalls of offending loved ones, neighbors and colleagues and/or being culturally insensitive!

For more information, tickets etc

www.denisekpage@gmail.com